Policy

Entrusted with your order, it will be my privilege to give you the highest quality of stock, at the most reasonable price; it will also include efficient handling of your order and a most courteous treatment.

The continued and healthy growth of our business is a reflection of the high quality of stock and courteous treatment that we have given over a period of years. You too may enjoy having the best of flowers in your garden this year, and be one of our many satisfied and enthusiastic customers.

This catalog lists one of the finest collections of Gladiolus for your consideration. The best offerings of Originators from all over the world are assembled here.

Several assortments are also offered for those who do not care to grow them separately and under name, but just wanting beautiful flowers; they are priced to suit any pocketbook and are all of the highest quality.

Lasting Thrills

A real lasting thrill is to be had in growing good gladiolus; they respond wonderfully to the attention you give them. From the time bulbs first enter our thoughts, interest in them increases; then the planting is a source of real pleasure, in the spring, when it is only natural for one to be in the garden. And as they are growing, to care for them from day to day, is most restful and a happy pastime, every moment of which your interest is running high. Then, as the first graceful spikes appear, your anticipation is at its height, but the real thrills come when the first flower opens wide and succeeding flowers in all their glory and beauty to reward you for your interest, kindness and effort. Having enjoyed their grandeur it soon becomes harvest time and you care for them and put them away to rest for the winter, with many pleasant reflections of the past season and happy thoughts in anticipation of the coming season, and more real and lasting thrills.

MY DISPLAY

AT THE OHIO STATE GLADIOLUS SOCIETY

Which was held at Akron, Ohio, in August, 1932

WON THE MAJOR PRIZE

For the largest, most complete, comprehensive assortment of Gladiolus of all types and varieties; the largest number and greatest diversity of varieties including the best collection of the new and rare varieties; the BEST QUALITY of BLOOM and most artistically arranged.

As special attractions my display contained in addition to the many artistically arranged baskets of varying sizes and styles, a very large "Fan" basket that was the outstanding attraction of the Show—it contained over 100 different and practically all of the newer and rare varieties, each one being a specimen in itself, and so arranged as to give a most artistic and striking effect.

A nicely arranged basket of Minuet, floor vases each of Aflame and Magna Blanca shared well as attractions, as did Phyllis McQuiston, Village Queen, and Precious, the good little glad., that they must see the second time.

You, too, will prefer Stewart gladiolus.

Introducing

Phyllis McQuiston

Village Queen

Precious

In offering my three new seedlings it is with a sense that color is of paramount importance, something that will arrest the attention with its beauty, delicacy, charm or attractiveness.

PHYLLIS McQUISTON. Is a deep glowing shrimp pink, clear and sparkling. The plant is of vigorous growth with an abundance of rich green foliage, a picture of real health. The spike is long and erect, carrying well five or more of these beautiful large flowers open at one time. It has the best of substance and is a good propagator. Those who have seen this variety are enthusiastic with their praise of its beauty. Large, $5.00 each; Medium, $3.50; Small, $2.50; Bulblets, $1.00 each.

VILLAGE QUEEN. Grandiflorus, primulinus. The flowers are very large and firm, the ground color is a soft white, outer edges of the petals is a clear La France pink, blending beautifully to a soft cream. Healthy, vigorous growing variety with strong spikes, a good producer. This is an especially rich and refined colorful flower. Large, $5.00 each; Medium, $3.50; Small, $2.50; Bulblets, $1.00 each.

PRECIOUS. The reception this variety received when displayed in a small black vase arranged with maiden hair fern, at the Ohio State Gladiolus show and at other major shows in 1932, clearly demonstrated that there is a place for a "good little glad." Practically all were attracted by its refined beauty. Precious only grows about twenty-four inches high, is vigorous and healthy in growth and a rapid multiplier. The color is a beautiful clear cameo pink, blending to a soft light throat, the flowers are about two and one-half inches across, are wide open, and many, but not all are fully and delicately lacinated, and "good to the last bud." The substance is of the best. Precious with its type and beauty I believe will lead the way to a greater popularity for a "Good Little Glad." Large, $5.00 each; Medium, $3.50; Small, $2.50; Bulblets, $1.00 each.

Of Interest

For the maximum performance or exhibition spikes, large bulbs are to be preferred. Medium bulbs are of blooming size, and small bulbs will at times bloom late in the season, the flowers being somewhat smaller in size. Bulblets can not be depended upon either to bloom or for germination, many fail to grow under the best conditions.

Landscaping with Gladiolus is being practised more each year. Varieties suitable for this purpose have been so noted in this catalog. They are sturdy and grow well with but little or no special attention.

Garden clubs may avail themselves of quantity prices by buying collectively.

Cultural Directions

Upon receipt of bulbs open package to permit air and keep cool until planting time, away from frost. The bulbs may be planted in an alternate double row. This is more effective than a thin single row. Plant bulbs about three inches apart in the row; the rows are about eighteen inches apart. The bulbs should be covered with about three inches of dirt; in light or sandy soil cover four or five inches.

Fertilize if you wish after bulbs are up three or four inches, with any good fertilizer. Gladiolus prefer an acid soil. Soil should be kept fresh and loose, not wet. Flowers may be cut with one open and will last for a week or ten days when given fresh water and one-fourth inch cut diagonally from stem daily.

The bulbs should be dug in the fall when leaves turn brown. Cut the tops off close to bulb. Cure them thoroughly in a well ventilated frost proof place, for about four weeks, stir them occasionally. The roots should then be removed, bulbs put in shallow containers and stored for the winter in a cool, dry and frost-proof place.

For many years it has been my practice to cut the tops off close to bulb at digging time. The bulbs are removed to curing quarters and the tops destroyed. Our storage is clean, dry and airy. At planting time bulbs have always been soaked in a formaldehyde solution of $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. to 2 gal. water, soaking 12 hours. Formaldehyde is the most penetrating disinfectant known. This, and constant cleanliness has enabled me to produce bulbs and flowers perfectly free from disease and insect pests.

The "ALL-WEATHER" PLANT MARKER

The Most Popular Garden Marker Today

Is the most practical and economical marker for Home gardeners as well as for the commercial grower.

They may be used wherever a plant marker is needed; for Roses, Iris, Peonies, Delphinium, Gladiolus, Evergreens; they are ideal for the Rock Garden, and are equally valuable for annuals.

Easy To Use—Simply write or print the name with "All Weather" pencil. The pencil is weather proof, the longer it is subjected to the weather the more resistant it becomes.

Legible From A Standing Position—This feature makes them most convenient, as it eliminates the necessity for stooping and twisting to read the name.

Educational—The names of your plants, shrubs, etc., will be better remembered when clearly labeled, and it is especially valuable and convenient for the children and visitors. They do not detract from the appearance of your garden.

The Best Materials—They are manufactured from the best materials—the stake being 15 inches long and the name plate $\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{4}$ inches—and are designed to be thoroughly practical and economical.
